

Dear sir/madam

I am writing to apply for any biology related internship in your company or organisation. I am convinced that I am the motivated, self-directed, enthusiastic emerging professional that you might need in your internship team. As a recent biology graduate with no previous internship but I have strong analytic skills, I am confident that I will make a successful addition to your company or organisation internship team as biologist intern.

My three years of graduate study were focused on microbiology, ecology, marine biology. I am confident that I can be the strong asset to your company or organisation as part of this year's internship. I can use my expert skills to support your company and client's objectives as a variable member of your team. I would like to meet and discuss how I might contribute to your company or organisations' service needs while I am learning a high performance, industry leading team as such as yours.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Your sincere

S. Helena
