PROFILE

I am a first-year student at UC Irvine. Although I am Undeclared, I have a strong passion for the sciences and hope to declare once I complete prerequisite courses. Due to my love for science, the environment, animals, research, and learning, I hope to find a position where I can expand my knowledge, give back to the organization, and get hands-on experience.

EXPERIENCE

Research Student

Starting Winter Quarter 2020

Starting this month, I will be joining a research team under a professor who teaches under the disciplines Earth System Science and Ecology and Evolutionary Biology. In this research, I will be working with microbes, fungi, and more to find results that may have a correlation to climate change. For about ten hours per week, I will work in the lab for this research position.

Rugeti & Associates

January 2019 – July 2019

Between January and July of 2019, I completed administrative work for my dad's company as an employee. In this position, I created spreadsheets, scanned documents, made presentations, and more.

Ocean Institute Gift Shop

2016 Summer

During the summer of 2016, I worked as a volunteer in the gift shop at the Ocean Institute in Dana Point. I helped customers find items, directed people to different parts of the institute, worked at the cash register, and more.
