

WILD CAT
CONSERVATION
CENTRE

23rd November 2019

To whom it may concern,

Throughout 2019, Kathleen Bull a current student at Western Sydney University undertook a study on the stress physiology of one of our breeding cheetah females here at the centre.

Kathleen always displayed a high level of professionalism when dealing with our staff and I, and has produced a quality paper that will assist us with our ongoing conservation breeding efforts.

I would welcome Kathleen back at the centre in the future to undertake further studies and research on our wild cats.

For any further information, please contact me via the details below

Kind Regards

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Ben Britton'. The signature is written in a cursive style with some loops and is positioned above a horizontal line.

Ben Britton
Director
Wild Cat Conservation Centre
E: ben@wildcatcentre.org.au
P: 0404 058 039
PO Box Wilberforce NSW 2756